representing the Eaton County-to-Monroe County district on the back of strong support in the district's Ohio border counties.

Driskell, 59, the former two-term House member and Saline mayor, picked up strong support in Eaton, Jackson and her home Washtenaw County. Her defeat was closer than the 15-point margin Walberg beat her by in 2016 when Trump polled strong in the 7th.

A variation of this district was last represented by a Democrat in 2009-10, when Mark SCHAUER unseated Walberg for a term during the Obama wave election year.

		HOW THIS DISTRICT COMPARES TO OTHERS  Consultant, former CIA Middle East analyst, served differing Defense and Intelligence roles in the White House under both Bush 43 and Obama. MIRS Analysis (November 6, 2018): Democrats and Republicans will represent the same number for Michigan in the U.S. House in 2019-2020 after the Democratic nominee Elissa SLOTKIN captured the 8th district amid strong Democratic turnout statewide. Slotkin, a former national security official under two administrations, will become the first Democrat in 18 years to represented the 8th Congressional District after narrowly unseating U.S. Rep. Mike BISHOP (R-Rochester). Slotkin blew out Bishop in Ingham County and Bishop couldn't make up the difference in traditionally bright red Livingston County or northern Oakland County, the anti-Donald TRUMP sentiment over this part of Metro Detroit poisoning the well for him.

17 th	Lenawee	Dale Zorn (R-Ida) Estimated GOP Base = 59.02% Former Monroe County Commissioner (20 years) Gongwer Analysis (November 6, 2018): Sen. Dale Zorn (R-Ida) won a second term Tuesday to represent the 17th Senate District after defeating Democratic former Monroe Rep. Bill LaVoy, according to unofficial results. With 78 percent of precincts reporting Mr. Zorn took 58.3 percent of the vote and 38.6 percent went for Mr. LaVoy. Mr. Zorn has voted consistently with the district, which has trended more conservative in recent years. Mr. LaVoy was unable to gain much traction nor was he able to raise significant money to mount the type of challenge other candidates in Southeast Michigan were able to wage.	Second	Lenawee County

Former two-term state representative (2015-Present), US Army Veteran, National Guard, helicopter pilot

Gongwer Analysis (November 6, 2018): Republicans held on to traditionally conservative ground in the 24th Senate District as Rep. Tom Barrett (R-Potterville) emerged from an expensive and tougher-than-expected battle waged by former public relations firm owner and Delta Township Democrat Kelly Rossman-McKinney. With 76 percent of precincts reporting Mr. Barrett had 53.2 percent of the vote and Ms. Rossman-McKinney 44.3 percent.

Mr. Barrett was able to defend turf that usually is strongly Republican from a staunch challenge from Ms. Rossman-McKinney, who was able to raise significant money, push a message of bipartisanship and force Senate Republicans to spend big money defending a district that in the past has not needed such a level of defense.

MIRS Analysis (November 6, 2018): Rep. Tom BARRETT (R-Potterville) used his relentless door-knocking operation and unquestioned conservative credentials to succeed Sen. Rick JONES (R-Grand Ledge).

Barrett, a helicopter pilot for the Michigan Army National Guard, polled strong in Eaton County and rural parts of the district. His selling points were his ability to pass bi-partisan bills, which he sold on TVs to independents in the campaign's final days.

He outpolled public relations professional Kelly ROSSMAN-McKINNEY, who turned in an impressive effort in this mid-Michigan district with a fundraising operation so strong the SDF didn't need to open its wallet here to make her competitive.

		Rossman-McKinney and her supporters were up on TV early and often, putting Rep. Tom BARRETT (R-Potterville) immediately on his heels after a primary in which he was bludgeoned with negative ads from the state's public utilities.
